

JRN275 SPRING 2024

FINAL ASSIGNMENT: Story pitch, interview & FOIA request letter Instructions/Explanations

Part I: INTERVIEW DUE DATE: 11:59 p.m., Friday, May 3 via BlackBoard. (100 pts/10%)

Part II: FINAL STORY PITCH DRAFT DUE DATE: To be discussed and turned in in class Thursday, May 2 via BlackBoard. (50 pts/5%)

Part II: FINAL STORY PITCH DUE DATE: 12 p.m. (noon), Tuesday, May 7 via BlackBoard. (100 pts/10%)

For this three-part, final assignment, imagine you are an investigative reporter for a newspaper, magazine or TV station and I am your editor-in-chief or news director.

Find and research a topic and/or issue in either Hamden, the local region, Connecticut, or your hometown and provide the following:

Part I: INTERVIEW/TRANSCRIPT due 11:59 p.m., Friday, May 3 via Blackboard

For this part of the assignment, you will conduct an in-person interview of at least 20 minutes. This interview must be with a primary source for your final story pitch (see below for more on that).

This part of the assignment requires you to:

- * Conduct an in-person (or Zoom), one-on-one (solo) interview of at least 20 minutes
- * Interview a professional adult who is not related to you
- * Record the interview
- * Transcribe the interview, (The transcription must include the subject's contact information. I may be contacting them to ensure that you were professional, polite and prepared.)
- * File the transcript and attached audio or video file (or link) to Blackboard.

To succeed in this assignment, it is critical to contact your subject immediately. You must be professional and polite in all your dealings so as to represent the university, this course and its professor, as well as yourself in the highest manner.

You will prepare for the interview by researching the subject, as well as whatever topic this subject represents. You will dress professionally to the interview, be on time and thank the subject.

Part II & III: DRAFT OF THE FINAL STORY PITCH DUE DATE; Print a hard copy to discuss and turn in in class on Thursday, May 2 FINAL STORY PITCH DUE DATE due 12 p.m. (noon), Tuesday, May 7 via Blackboard

Use the story pitch format on pp. 44-45 in Gaines. This pitch is required to be at least three pages and must include key details of the story:

- The most important details – Who? What? When? Where? Why? How? (include in the SCOPE and/or NEED sections),
- Identify and describe HUMAN and DOCUMENTED sources you would use for the story,
 - WHO DO YOU NEED TO INTERVIEW? WHY?
 - WHAT DO YOU EXPECT TO GET FROM THEM?
 - WHAT PUBLIC DOCUMENTS DO YOU NEED TO MAKE THIS STORY A REALITY? Be extra specific!
 - WHAT DO YOU EXPECT TO FIND IN THEM? WHERE WILL YOU GET THEM? (Include in the SOURCES section)
- Direct quotes you take from the transcription of the interview with your key source to use in a published story (include in the SOURCES section, as well),
- Proper grammar, spelling, punctuation and AP style,
- Your account will not include bullet points, but you will write in full sentences for the pitch.

For PRESENTATION, I just want a single story. (No “three-part series,” etc.) But, I do want to know if this is a news story for the Chronicle, a broadcast piece for Q30, a package for a local TV news station or an article news magazine, a web piece for either and what art/graphics/visuals you may need for it, as well.

If you need to Google or report other information to bolster your story pitch, be sure to note from where you pulled information (link where required, but attribute regardless).

- 1.) FOIA REQUEST LETTER – Identify from where/whom you will get public documents and write an official FOIA request letter to that department/individual. (See examples in Cullier & Davis and remember the tips we talked about in class.)

As this is a final assignment, no late assignments will be accepted.